denote the task-positive network while negative values denote the task-negative network. Networks were defined on the basis of intrinsic correlations and anti-correlations with five of six seed regions. White contours are drawn using the fixation condition and copied onto the other maps to facilitate comparison.